Description

Gabriel Drageon (1873-1935) - Official Painter of the Navy Watercolor on paper mounted on cardboard, signed lower right Dimensions: 46 x 36.5 cm (without frame) - 51 x 42 cm (with frame) Antique gilt frame, under glass Superb marine watercolor by Gabriel Drageon, depicting a peaceful scene on the Mediterranean coast. A solitary sailboat sails offshore, in a balanced composition combining sun-drenched rocks, calm sea and pastel sky. The work of light, the subtlety of the nuances and the accuracy of the reflections bear witness to great expertise in the art of watercolor. This work on paper mounted on cardboard, perfectly stable and protected under glass, reflects all the art of a painter of the sea concerned with rendering the luminous atmosphere and the landscapes of the coast with poetry and precision. Gabriel Marie André Drageon (1873-1935), born in Toulon, was appointed Official Painter of the Navy in 1925. A student of Casimir Raymond, he exhibited from 1908 at the Salon des Artistes Français and distinguished himself with his seascapes of great finesse. He remained attached to his region of origin, where he found his main subjects of inspiration. His work is part of the French figurative tradition of the early 20th century, with a predilection for coastal and maritime views, often captured on the spot, good condition. Perfectly preserved work, some foxing, framed under glass in an antique gilded carved wooden frame. No losses or creases.
