Description

This stained glass window depicts Saint Bernadette in front of the grotto, holding a rosary in her hands. In the distance, we can see the village of Lourde surrounded by mountains. It is signed "Ch. Champigneulle - Paris 1931." The Champigneulle family has known several generations of master glassmakers. The first, Charles-François Champigneulle (1820-1882), took over Charles Maréchal's stained glass workshop in Metz, then moved to Bar-le-Duc. One of his sons took over his workshop and another, Louis-Charles-Marie Champigneulle (1853-1905), founded a workshop in Paris. This stained glass window of Saint Bernadette Soubirous was created by Jacques-Charles Champigneulle (1907-1955), a fourth generation of master glassmakers. The latter is surely the
