Description

This swivel harpist chair in beech, faithful to the Louis XVI style, embodies timeless elegance and refinement. Its curved back, delicately carved, is topped with a ribbon. The blue fabric with small white and yellow flower patterns that covers the seat and back adds a touch of contrast with the stained wood. Its meticulously carved armrests extend this aesthetic harmony, while its straight, fluted legs, characteristic of the Louis XVI style, ensure perfect stability. Thanks to its adjustable height, this small armchair is ideal to accompany the harpist in his art, allowing the musician to immerse himself in his playing with elegance.Period: Early 20th centuryExcellent condition after restoration in our workshop.Waxed finishDelivery possible in France and internationally.Dimensions:Height: 86
