Description

We propose a rare and scenographic set of six gilded armchairs in Louis XV style, with carved wood and gilded leaf structure, attributable to the eighteenth century (probably Italian manufacture, Rome or Naples area). Each armchair has: o "folder" shaded backrest o Convertible legs and carved headband with floral motifs o Rich mission gold plating with irregular patina and period marks o Crimson red velvet upholstery, partly redone in the 20th century, partly worn (see photo) The general state is structurally solid, but: o Two armchairs show advanced upholstery wear o Some points of the tiding have shoots and wear, not hidden? Technical details o Height: approx. 105 cm o Max width: 64 cm o Depth: 58 cm o Seat height: about 45 cm? Notes on authenticity The floral carving, proportions, construction and
