Description

Discover this sumptuous mid-century cocktail ring, created circa 1950-1960 in 18K (750?) white gold. At its center, a round emerald of approximately 0.50 ct displays a vibrant green, enhanced by a "daisy" halo consistent with the period style. Around the center stone, ten brilliant-cut diamonds (? 0.20 ct in total) form a luminous outline that highlights the depth of the green color. The openwork sub-gallery optimizes the diffusion of light, while the triple-pronged band ensures perfect balance and wearing comfort. Cut in 49 FR (US 5 ¼) and adjustable, this architectural work ring adapts easily for a custom fit. Ideal for lovers of vintage, retro or heritage jewelry, this emerald combines the timeless elegance of a halo with the unique spirit of mid-century jewelry. Technical sheet Metal: 18
