Description

Exceptional round dining table with a thick glass top and a solid wood base with a stainless steel veneer. The stainless steel pallet veneer consists of alternating matt and glossy parts, giving the table a particularly striking effect. The veneer is made of matt brushed and glossy polished stainless steel. The generous cactus shape of the base is both artistic and clearly architectural. The table is not easy to photograph, as everything is reflected in the glossy, rounded parts of the base and the light is refracted, but this is precisely what makes the table so special in reality. It has a very cubic and austere appearance, but the mixture of surfaces gives it an extremely impressive and modern look. It is a real eye-catcher, both in the kitchen and in the dining room. The table could also accommodate a larger
