Large Russian Hunting Knife From The Tsarist Period

3 500 EUR

Signature : Schaaf a St. Petersburgh

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Wrought iron

Length : 42 cm environ

Description

impressive Russian hunting knife called bear knife blued iron fittings leather scabbard with iron blued fittings strong blade stamped by its maker Schaaf § sons in St. Petersburg with tsarist eagle.(Nicolaus Schaaf was a German knife maker from Solingen, who came to Russia in 1820 to work in Zlatoust. After , he moved to St Petersbugh to open his proper bussines in knife making with his son; He was one of the best knife makers and sold many items to the Tsarist family , many officers of the russian army and people of nobility . Many pieces of Schaaf are in Russian museum collections °wooden checkered gripmodern design around turn of the century;

Dealer

Art-Antiques & Armour

Art - Antiques & Armour

Tel : +32477486582

Enghien 7850