

Pair Of Safari Style Armchairs In Walnut Wood And Natural Leather

2 500 EUR

Signature : Francisco Muñoz

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Description

Excellent pair of safari-style armchairs, made of solid walnut wood and thick, hand-stitched natural leather. The seat and back are made from a single continuous piece of leather, which also extends to the armrests, adding character and strength. This design, with its robust and warm aesthetic, is similar to the one created by Francisco Muñoz in 1959 for the Club de Campo in Madrid. A timeless and comfortable piece, designed for both urban interiors and stylish country homes. Dimensions: Height 66 cm · Width 57 cm · Depth 50 cm
