Description

Description This magnificent middle desk, made during the Napoleon III period in the mid-19th century, is a perfect example of the elegance and refinement of a Louis XV style. Designed in marquetry, it is distinguished by its careful details and exceptional craftsmanship. The desk opens with a drawer. The top of the desk is highlighted by a brass ingot mold with marquetry on the top. The whole rests on four curved legs decorated with astragals, descending to sabots decorated with acanthus leaves, testifying to the attention paid to detail. This desk is not only a functional piece of furniture, but also a collector's item that reflects the art and culture of its time.
