A very attractive 1930s style table lamp. This light was manufactured by the Mutual Sunset Lamp Company in the 1950s. A charming lucite switch allows the light to be turned on/off from the main column, by pulling it downwards. The shade is perforated at the top; please see our photos. We have had it rewired for the UK, it can easily be adapted for any destination. Please contact us for more information. Created in the style of designer Gilbert Rohde, this piece is however not stamped. A stylish desk lamp, or a bedside lamp on your nightstand.
