Description

A rare pair of large table lamps made by Maison Baguès, Paris, in the 1950s. These lamps are decorated with the iconic Maison Baguès urns, leaves, and parrots. We also have a single lamp with this design and another with the flower and leaf motif. Please contact us with any questions. Please take a look at all our photos to see the intricate details of this design. We actively source Maison Baguès pieces and can supply chandeliers and wall sconces to complement these lamps. Please contact us or visit our website to see our current pieces. Rewired. The simple cardboard candles on the bulb socket can be replaced with drip-effect candles. The choice is yours. Since the 1860s, the renowned French luxury lighting workshop Maison Baguès has been producing pieces that are highly sought after worldwide.
