Description

Pair of Louis XVI cabriolet armchairs with medallion backs, 18th century, lacquered in gray-green. Their medallion backs have cuffed armrests resting on curved, fluted consoles. Their seats with molded crosspieces rest on four tapered, fluted legs, the front legs of which are rudenté. Traditional upholstery redone and covered with a faux-plain weave fabric in plum tones, edged with a double plum cord. Good condition, formerly re-lacquered, formerly caned.
