Description

Louis XVI style cylinder desk in mahogany, 19th century. This desk rests on six legs, a white marble covers the top of the piece of furniture. The opening of the cylinder allows the writing tablet to be placed. Plenty of storage on this desk: thirteen drawers in total and four compartments, one of which closes with a sliding curtain. The tablet is covered with its original wheel-decorated leather. Very beautiful quality of cabinetmaking. This desk has been restored and varnished in the old-fashioned way. DIMENSIONS: 1.30m high, 0.65m deep and 1.22m wide. The work surface: 1.13m x 0.57m and 0.74m for the height. Delivery on estimate.
