Description

Venice, Scuola Grande di S. Marco Venetian artist of the Canaletto school 18th-19th century Canvas cm. 36 x 50 Frame cm. 53 x 65 Excellent condition The painting depicts one of the most characteristic Venetian views, interpreted by the great masters of 18th-century painting, among whom Canaletto and Bernardo Bellotto stood out.

The painting refers to the famous canvases with this subject by the two leaders of the school, executed by a valid artist who captures the style and the same typical atmosphere. The white architecture of the Scuola di S. Marco illuminated by the sun are the protagonists in the center of the view, with the Campo dei Santi Giovanni e Paolo. The Canale dei Mendicanti is crossed by the Ponte Cavallo. On the right, a splendid noble palace is reflected in the waters of the canal. The
