Description

Walnut writing desk table, Neoclassical Style, Late 1700s Era. Elegant and understated writing or working table, made of walnut wood. The large, functional rectangular top has slightly shaped edges and a wide, smooth surface that reveals the beautiful natural grain of the wood. Measurements: D 70 x W 179 x H 77.5 cm. Under the top are two side-by-side front drawers, fitted with wooden knobs, which enhance the linear harmony. The drawers are recessed discreetly and evenly into the under-top band, helping to maintain a clean, balanced appearance. The legs are straight, tapering downward in a late neoclassical style, typical of the transition between the Louis XVI and early 19th-century taste.
