Description

Rare antique 19th century Véramine or Varamin rug in hand-knotted wool from Persia, Iran. This piece measures 156 cm wide by 242 cm long. The condition is in good to very good condition depending on age. The field of this rug is decorated with fourteen cartouches enclosing a floral decoration. Indeed, many stylized flowers are used to give rhythm to this piece. The nuances are fresh, due to the use of natural shades. On an ivory background, the orange rust rubs shoulders with a midnight blue, supported by the chestnut color. The wide border is made up of three braids of the same width, very stylized carnation flowers in the center and a symbol of eternity on each side. The city of Varamin (Veramine) is located near the Iranian capital Tehran. Hand-knotted rugs are tightly woven, using wool and dyes from

Very high quality. They have a very distinct style and are known for their intricate designs. These rugs usually feature a central cartouche surrounded by smaller medallions, all arranged in a symmetrical pattern. The colors used in Varamin rugs are often earthy and warm. Shades of brown, red and gold being the most common. These rugs are highly valued for their beauty and durability. They will only increase in value over time for the beautiful models. In very good condition, this rug was hand-knotted in the 19th century during the reign of the Qajar dynasty. ## The Qajar dynasty or Qajars :(Qajar, Qajar, Qajar, Persian: ?????) is a Turkmen dynasty that ruled Iran from 1786 to 1925. This rug is a beautiful collector's item, decorative and comfortable. The decor is abundant, beautifully drawn, the wool is of high quality. Slight wear in places accompanies it, which is normal for an antique rug. The whole is held underneath under the edge of a white linen reinforcement band. Dimensions: Width: 156 cm (61 ") x Length: 242 cm (95") This rug has been professionally and ecologically cleaned. FREE DELIVERY FOR FRANCE, the same for all our rugs, large or small!
