Description
-------------

Elegant contemporary sculpture - Creation signed Maricke - Unique piece with certificate - H. 30 cm Modern sculpture representing a woman sitting cross-legged, with a serene gaze and wearing a turban. This work, of great sensuality, combines the grace of the gesture with a remarkable drapery work in a patinated material reminiscent of bronze, but made according to the specific techniques of the artist Éric Simon Maricke. The modeling is fine, the texture of the fabrics is strikingly realistic, contrasting with the stylized elegance of the bust and the face. The sculpture rests on a beige stone base with some traces and is delivered with its certificate of authenticity signed by the artist, stipulating that it is a unique piece entirely made and patinated by his hands in his workshop.
