Description

Candlestick with triangular base. Bronze. Spain, 18th century. Bronze candlestick with a triangular base resting on three legs and enhanced with moldings, a balustrade stem with discs of different diameters and a top with a similar decoration, to the right of the area used for the candle. This type of element was common in the 18th century, both in large private homes and in monasteries, convents, churches, etc., and the present work responds to a very widespread typology in Spain at the time. - Dimensions: 18x18x45 cm
