Description

Very interesting Napoleon 3 clock from the "Egyptomania" period of the mid-19th century in patinated bronze, gilt and black marble, in the spirit of Georges Servant, with a decoration of vultures perched on the sides. It is in its original condition, with a break on the rear corner of the marble base and chips on the marble top of the upper part (restoration of the rear corner is planned). Other than that, good general condition. Pendulum and key present.
