Description

Impressive sideboard from the late 19th century (circa 1900), made of solid mahogany and richly decorated with chiseled gilt bronzes. This piece of furniture is distinguished by its finely inlaid side doors with geometric patterns and its two central doors draped in pleated fabric, giving a classical and theatrical elegance to the whole. It is surmounted by a vast top in antique marble, of remarkable quality. The piece of furniture rests on tapered legs with carved decoration. Some normal signs of wear related to time are visible (see photos), without detracting from its beauty or stability. Condition: Good general condition. Minor wear consistent with age. Original patina preserved. Dimensions: Width: 230 cm Depth: 70 cm Height: 110 cm Period: Late 19th century (circa 1900) Materials: Mahogany, gilt bronze,
