Description

Very fine miniature depicting an elegant man, which I would date to around 1830. The man's face and hair are particularly well executed. The artwork is in very good condition; the spots visible in the photos are on the (convex) glass protecting the miniature. I have not opened it to clean it, so I do not know what the support of the miniature is, but I believe it to be a bone plaque. The miniature is sold with its slightly curved, blackened wooden frame. The frame shows some chipping (see photos). Visible dimensions: 8 x 6 cm Frame dimensions: 15 x 13 cm The photos were taken in natural light. Careful packaging. Shipping costs are the responsibility of the buyer. I remain at your disposal for any further information or additional photos.
