Description

Very beautiful set of three lamps of the same provenance matching the Imari model in blue, red and gold on a white background. Of different shapes and sizes, these beautiful bronze-based lamps are assemblies of old Asian vases transformed into lamp bases, they decorated the large living room of a castle in the Tarn. The new electrification assemblies are completely safe and with contemporary sockets. The neat ornate bronze base presents this beautiful collection divinely, very useful for those who want unity in the lighting decor, for these old oil lamps from the Napoleon III period which were subsequently electrified. A beautiful unit for these useful decorative pieces in very good original condition...
