Description

Cup Signed by the Muller Brothers in Lunéville "The orange and purple glass paste presents a luminous and warm nuanced gradient highlighting the Muller's expertise. The stylized corolla-shaped neck invites us to nature and fruit. The bulbous rim in its center is enhanced by the falling shape. The hollow base adds even more authenticity. The whole offers rare nuances, colors and proportions. The Muller family settled in Lunéville in 1894, where the two elder brothers worked for Emile Gallé. The creation of their factory in 1897 directly competed with Gallé, until reaching its peak at the end of the First World War. Their production mainly covered the Art Nouveau and then Art Deco periods, and enjoyed worldwide recognition.
