Description

Louis XVI dressing table with rosewood veneer coffers framed in light wood and stained wood with checkerboard spandrels. This dressing table opens on the top in the central part and reveals a mirror, with two shutters on each side. Four drawers on the front and a shelf covered with green leather. The whole rests on four spindle legs with marquetry fluting. Furniture decorated with bronze fittings, keyhole, rings and foot sabots. Louis XVI period dressing table bearing the stamp of Lardin JME for André Antoine Lardin, received master on July 1, 1750. Presence of old restorations to the veneer, finishes revised matte varnish.
