

Bronze Statue Of Nepalese Tara (royal Relaxation Position), Late 19th Century

650 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Bronze

Height : 13.5 cm

Description

A finely cast bronze figure of Tara, seated in lalitasana (royal ease pose) atop a double-lotus base. The figure is adorned with detailed jewelry including a crown with central seated Buddha image, circular earrings, necklace, and armlets. The body is elegantly modeled, draped with a sash across the chest, and the legs feature delicate engraved scrollwork and floral motifs. The left hand rests gracefully on the base beside a stemmed lotus flower (padma), while the right arm rests on the raised knee in a relaxed and compassionate posture. The statue is traditionally sealed with a copper base plate, repoussé stamped with a vajra (thunderbolt) motif -- a ritual feature characteristic of Nepalese Newar Buddhist workshop bronzes from the late 19th to early 20th

Dealer

Art Classique

curiosités, art premier et Asiatique

Tel : email : aze@pandora.be

Mobile : 0032-475272534

Bilzen 3740

century.

The overall condition is very good, with natural wear to high points and traces of age-appropriate patina. The piece is free of modern repairs and retains excellent presence.

Dimensions: height 13.5 cm

Origin: Nepal, Kathmandu Valley

Date: Circa 1880

Material: Cast bronze with sealed copper base