Description

Pair of mid-century Italian ceramic and brass table lamps by Banci Firenze, 1980s. Straight table lamps with a round ceramic base on a square plinth. The central base consists of two ceramic elements with a graphic Moorish pattern, in slightly glossy crackled white and matte taupe. A wide brass piece completes the lamp in its upper part, while a square base (3.0 cm) completes it in its lower part. The sturdy base has a diameter of 6 cm. The straight shade of coarse silk, in off-white on white laminate, has a diameter of 23 cm and a height of 29 cm. The lamp is delicate, yet very special and striking due to its decoration. Banci Firenze is an Italian lighting manufacturer based in Florence, specializing in the production of high-quality lighting fixtures. The company was founded in
