the 18th century. His style takes up the lesson of Francesco Guardi, with the use of a contrasting color palette that alternates brown tones with highlights, all to create a more atmospheric than calligraphic effect in his paintings. This pair of large landscapes represents a rare example in which the painter did not try to paint Venice, but rather to represent the Venetian countryside. We find the colors and tones typical of Tironi, from the clouds in the sky to the "macchiette", this time dressed as country figurines instead of gondoliers. - All shipments to the EU are free and professionally packaged. - This item is sold with a certificate of authenticity with legal validity. - Further details on the condition report are available upon request. - Viezzi Arte guarantees quality and professionalism at competitive prices, contact us on info@viezziarte.it or via What'sApp at +39 3402841279. * Message addressed to non-Italian buyers: Please keep in mind that this work has not yet obtained the certificate of free export from Italy from the Superintendence of Cultural Heritage.
