Darte Frères and setting up shop on rue de la Roquette, while Joseph Darte continued under "Darte Aîné à Paris" and set up shop on rue de Popincourt. The brothers prospered, so much so that in 1816, a second store opened at 16, rue Vienne. The factory participated in the 1819 exhibition and, as in 1806, won a silver medal. However, things became complicated from 1820 onwards, and three years later, the brothers divided the assets of the struggling company. In 1824, Louis Joseph joined forces with one of his sons, Auguste Remi, but the business collapsed a year later. In 1828, bankruptcy was declared.
