Description

The portrait of a young woman dressed in Renaissance clothing was created by the famous Viennese painter of the historicist era Anton Ebert (1845 Mies, Bohemia - 1896 Vienna). The artist was a very renowned genre and portrait painter, who worked in Vienna in the 2nd half of the 19th century. He studied at the Prague Academy and at the Vienna Academy in the class of the famous F. Waldmüller. This portrait was painted by the artist under the influence of his contemporary and founder of Viennese-style historicism Hans Makart (1840 - 1884).

Literature: The artist is listed in: "Austrian Artists Dictionary" by Heinrich Fuchs, Vienna 1974 and "Allgemeines Lexikon der bildenen Künstler" by Thieme / Becker. Leipzig, 1999. Inscription: signed lower right, on the back of the canvas
