time by striking a second time two minutes later) Total height 29 cm, width 11.5 cm depth 8 cm Period: very early 19th century around 1805/1810. Condition report: clock in very good condition, the dial has no accidents. All the functions of the movement work perfectly. The button on the side door to the left of the clock is very old but not original. NB: the brass cabinet is in very good condition and shows no oxidation, wear or irregularities on the surface. It is preserved in its condition. A simple cleaning (without polishing) will give it a shiny appearance. Shipping: secure packaging with photos will be provided by us, shipping will be via UPS.
