Description

Cubist ceramic sculpture representing a reclining figure. Very nice combination of straight lines and solid shapes with small details such as 2 eyes. Made from heavy chamote clay and unique piece. 1970' s and signed by Paul De Bruyne (Belgium 1936-2007). Graduated at the Higher Institute Sint-Lukas in Ghent. And was a teacher at the Royal Academy and the Sint-Lukas Institute in Oudenaarde and at the Sint-Barbara College in Ghent. De Bruyne created an oeuvre as a ceramist, in which he also considered ceramics as a part of architecture and interior design. This led to the realization of works of art, utensils, ornaments and ceramic sculpture, integrated into architecture. Almost all his works were inspired by humanity and society of the 1960s and 1970s.
