Description

Exceptional Art Nouveau lamp with ironwork by Jean Keppel and Daum coloquinté tulip. Rare signature for this high-quality lamp with a base entirely in cold-forged wrought iron, made without any welding by the master ironworker Jean Keppel, located in Nancy at 130 rue Mont-désert in the 1900s and collaborator of Louis Majorelle. Very beautiful creation with this beautiful brand. It is associated with a beautiful Daum tulip coloquinté shape, threaded and hot-drawn with a tool. Note the exceptional raspberry and apricot colors for this glassware, again, exceptional. Perfect condition of the whole, works perfectly, signed "Jean Keppel à Nancy" for the base and "Daum "croix de lorraine" Nancy" for the tulip. High-quality Art Nouveau lamp, in exceptional condition.
