Gervais Maximilien Durand Bibus Stamped Mahogany And Gilded Bronze 19th Century Open Library

4 600 EUR

Signature : Gervais Maximilien Durand

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Mahogany

Width : 109

Height : 147

Depth : 36,5

Description

Superb mahogany bibus stamped G.Durand, gilt bronze trim, of very good quality. Marble top surrounded by a gallery. Adjustable shelving, original, inside. Very good condition, french polish. 19th century period Gervais-Maximilien Durand is a Parisian cabinetmaker of the 19th century born in Paris on July 30, 1839[1] and died in Paris 4th on November 26, 1911[2]. He settled at 12 rue de la Cerisaie then at 23 rue Beautreillis and finally in the former Hôtel de Sully at 62 rue Saint-Antoine. An exceptional craftsman, he distinguished himself at the Universal Exhibition of 1889 for which he won a silver medal. According to the report of A. Picard: "Mr. Durand, a cabinetmaker as skilled as he was modest, exhibited for the first time first-rate furniture, of which he was both the

Dealer

Galerie Vaudémont
Ecole de Nancy, Généraliste.
Tel : 06 37 38 76 81

1 rue Saint Laurent
Menil la Tour 54200

designer and the maker. He followed in the footsteps of masters such as Alfred Emmanuel Louis Beurdeley and Henry Dasson." Source: Wikipedia