

Three Small Silver-plated Metal Trays, éditions Lancel, Paris, France, Circa 1970

800 EUR

Signature : Maison Lancel

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Silver metal

Length : 28 cm

Width : 24.5 cm

Height : 5 cm

Description

Set of three rectangular silver-plated trays, a pair and a larger one. They bear the Lancel hallmark. The largest: Length 28 cm (11 inches) X Width 24.5 cm (9.6 inches) X Height 5 cm (2 inches). The two smallest: Length 27.5 cm (10.8 inches) X Width 9.5 cm (3.7 inches) X Height 3 cm (1.18 inches). Story Lancel is a French leather goods and luxury goods company founded in Paris in 1876 by Angèle and Alphonse Lancel, then developed by their son Albert. The company remained in the hands of the founding family until 1997, when it was bought by the Richemont group. Then, on 1 June 2018, Lancel was acquired by the Italian group Piquadro. In the early days, Lancel sold pipes and accessories for smokers. The brand then diversified into decorative items and gifts. It commissioned its

Dealer

Galerie Canavèse

Decorative Arts of the eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth Centuries

Tel : 09 50 75 60 25

Mobile : 06 08 41 29 80

Fax : 01 42 60 50 26

21 rue des Saints Pères

Paris 75006

craftsmen to make a variety of objects, including clocks, goldsmiths' and silversmiths' wares, spectacles, barometers, scissors, lamps and table accessories. Lancel holds several patents, including the automatic lighter, the Aviona trunk and the Bambino portable radio. To find out more, please click on this Wikipedia link (in French)