Description

Pair of porcelain vases from the First Empire period, early 19th century. Very pretty pair with a deep blue background and a beautiful gilded decoration of scrolls and trellises with different hand-painted bouquets of flowers in each reserve. Note the very pretty gilding with very little wear, which is rare on porcelain from this period. Beautiful size, height 26 cm, giving this pair a magnificent presence. Beautiful objects to position symmetrically on a console or chest of drawers for a beautiful decoration.
