

Worcester Blue And White Tea Canister, C.1775

650 EUR

Signature : Worcester

Period : 18th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Porcelain

Description

A fine antique tea canister from the celebrated Worcester factory, dating to around 1775. Of lobed form with a short neck and flat shoulders, it is decorated in underglaze blue with the so-called "Pinecone and Fern" pattern -- a less common botanical design used in Worcester porcelain during the late 18th century. The lid was originally topped with a small rose-shaped finial, typical of Worcester canisters of this period

The smooth, slightly bluish glaze and crisp cobalt decoration are characteristic of Worcester's First Period porcelain. The base bears the underglaze blue crescent mark of the factory. At the time, tea was an expensive luxury, and such compact canisters were used to store small but

Dealer

Gillers Antiques

Specialists in 19th-century European silverware, porcelain and décor

Mobile : +44 7738009924

Buntingford SG9 0PY

precious amounts of loose leaf tea.

Highly desirable among collectors of early English porcelain, this canister combines historical authenticity, elegant form, and decorative appeal, making it a fine example of Worcester's First Period craftsmanship. Dimensions and Condition: Height: 16.5 cm A chip to the inner rim of the neck; otherwise excellent antique condition. No cracks or restorations. Please study the accompanying photographs carefully as they form an integral part of this description. If you have any questions, we will be happy to answer them. The item will be shipped with full tracking and insurance.