Description

Two-body sideboard from the 40s-50s, completely renovated. Characteristics: this large post-war two-body sideboard is composed, in the upper part, of two cupboards closing with a door, a cupboard closing with two glass doors and four drawers. In the lower part, it consists of three drawers and three cupboards closing with a door. Each cupboard has a shelf. The doors and drawers have metal knobs from the same years, specially found for it. Renovation: this large two-body sideboard has been completely sanded (inside and out) to remove its old, tired brown varnish, then it has been protected with a colorless matte varnish. The inside of the drawers has been painted black, as well as the uprights of the upper glass cupboard. It has been completely washed and deep cleaned. Dimensions: L147 x D45 x H214.
