Description

Italian chest of drawers in black ceruse oak with nickel-plated handles, 1960s This chest of drawers with 4 spacious drawers captivates with its refined details and chic finish. The base of the chest of drawers is made of beech with oak veneer and black laminate. The oak wood pores and lines are still visible, giving this surface a pleasant, warm character and a soft feel. The bottom of the drawers is covered in beige Alcantara, making it suitable for delicate fabrics. The recessed handles are edged with nickel-plated metal, which emphasizes the lines of the handles. A thin metal strip runs across the top and bottom like a piping. The chest of drawers is modern and clean, but it also has refined details that make it so special. The chest of drawers is of high quality and has been
