Description

This large pair of decorative wall sconces was made by Banci in Florence in the 1970s.

Combining gilt metal, glass, crystal, and pearls, the design is intricate and detailed, creating a stunning result. Perfect for a living room, bedroom, or hotel lobby. Like all our lighting, these fixtures will be rewired and can be installed anywhere. Please contact us with any questions.

The bulbs are standard bulbs used in modern lighting fixtures and are therefore widely available. We actively seek these pieces, as well as similar fixtures from Maison Baguès. We often offer chandeliers to complement our wall sconces; please contact us for more information. Founded in the heart of Florence in 1899 as a chandelier restoration workshop, Banci began manufacturing high-quality lighting fixtures that epitomized excellent Italian craftsmanship. Since then, the company has continued to manufacture its pieces entirely by hand, combining tradition and innovation, and is today internationally recognized for the originality of its products. Each step of the production process is carried out in-house with the greatest care by Florentine master craftsmen.
