Jean Chevolleau (1924-1996) is a French painter associated with the lyrical abstraction movement and the New School of Paris, an artistic movement that emerged after the Second World War. His work is part of a period of artistic renewal in France, marked by a desire to move away from traditional figuration to explore freer and more expressive forms. He is close to several artists of his time, notably Jean Dufy, Gaston Chaissac, and Victor Vasarely. Visible at the Galerie Courcelles Antiquités, at 97 rue de Courcelles, in the 17th arrondissement of Paris.
