Description

Pair of Louis XVI gilt bronze and white marble cassolettes. Elegant pair of transformation cassolettes in finely chiseled and gilded bronze, resting on a white marble base decorated with gilt bronze foliate friezes. Each cassolette has a fluted shaft topped with a bowl decorated with garlands of flowers and geometric handles. The lids are removable, allowing the cassolette to be transformed into a vase, according to the typical decorative use of the period. French work from the late 18th century - early 19th, in the pure Louis XVI neoclassical style. Original mercury gilding, of high quality, presenting a beautiful shine and clear details. Height: 18 cm Width: 6.5 cm (at the base)
