Description

An antique Japanese Satsuma sugar bowl with lid, signed by Kyoto artist Shozan (??), and dating to circa 1880. The piece is hand-painted with a panoramic scene of elegant women and children in a garden with architectural features and stylised foliage. Enamelled in soft colours and highlighted in gold, the composition wraps around the body and continues onto the lid.

The base bears the artist's signature in gold on a black ground. Shozan is a well-documented Kyoto studio decorator of the late 19th century, known for high-quality export wares with intricate painting
