Description

Elegant sideboard in solid walnut wood with dark patina, small but refined in size. The cabinet is equipped with two doors and two drawers, with turned and lost wax cast bronze handles and gangarella hinges. The shelf feet support an urn-shaped base, giving a touch of elegance. The frame under the top is also finely carved with pods, with a clear classical reference. The sideboard is ascribed to Tuscan Renaissance manufacture from the end of the 16th century. Functional and elegant, this ergonomic and practical piece of furniture is able to add a touch of refinement and history to any environment.
