Description

Plate from the Astrolabio series created and manufactured in the 60s. We no longer present Pietro Fornassetti, Italian designer, whose trademark is fantasy mixed with surrealism, who dresses with unparalleled elegance, both furniture and objects, with architectural elements taken from the great Italian tradition. This represents a Renaissance astrolabe in the manner of an etching, bordered by a motto on an off-center gold background. Slight wear in the center, otherwise very good condition. Bears on the back the name of the series and the golden stamp of the artist. This is a period edition of the creation of the model.
