- the title page, as well as the covers, show signs of wear, from the preface - on two pages - it starts to get better, then page 1 is good, which continues until the end of the alphabet, page 613 - - followed by the Latin vocabulary, then the Greek vocabulary, finishing the work with page 717 - on the upper edge of this vocabulary of words appear small auriols, visible on one of the photos, as well as a small lack of paper on page 665, but this is a printing defect rather than damage from wear - - the small strip "Chez Théophile Barrois le Jeune, Libraire rue Hautefeuille" is loose, it covers a little of the left side text of the title page, is then found on the last cover page - in the format 130 x 200 mm -
