Description

Silver Reliquary - Saint Vincent de Paul - 18th / 19th century
Elegant oval-shaped embossed silver reliquary, adorned with rich floral decoration in high relief, including roses, tulips and finely chiseled foliage. Description
In the upper part, a medallion depicts a bust in relief, likely that of Saint Vincent de Paul, to whom the relic is dedicated. The central cavity, highlighted by a silver filigree surround, presents a precious relic inserted under a domed crystal. It is protected by two crossed golden wires in the shape of a cross, fixed by a red wax seal on the back of the reliquary, attesting to the authenticity and unopenedness of the reliquary. A handwritten label clearly indicates the name of the saint: S. Vincent de P. (Saint Vincent de Paul). The whole is presented in its original case, lined with velvet
