Description

This rare set of three large patinated terracotta vases, made in the early 20th century, is inspired by the classical decorative style of the 18th century. Each features a raised medallion depicting a female profile, evoking the elegant silhouettes of antique cameos, surrounded by garlands of plants and sculpted friezes that reinforce their timeless allure. Their flared shape, natural patina and generous dimensions (55 cm high, 68 cm in diameter) allow them to play a strong decorative role, whether in a French garden, on an elegant terrace or in a refined winter garden. Designed according to a model probably cast, these vases exude an impression of authenticity and style, and can be used alone or in trios to structure a landscaped or architectural space. A rare and decorative set, perfect for an
