present at the "Painters and Sculptors" exhibition about Picasso and Pignon. In 1953, he participated in the exhibition of the Union of Plastic Arts for Peace about Picasso. It was at this time, in 1954, in the city of a hundred potters, that he decided to acquire an old oil mill, renamed the Old Mill, which he transformed into a ceramics workshop and store. He was joined by Jean-Claude Malarmey and Dominique Baudart. Roger Collet also spent time in this workshop."
