Description

Pair of Bolognese Directoire chests of drawers, veneered and with filleted edges.

An important companion piece to late 18th-century Emilian chests of drawers, with notable features such as the saber-shaped feet, the use of six different types of fine wood, the expertly integrated filleting on the front, top, and sides, the beautiful dimensions, the integrity, and, last but not least, the fact that both are still available as a pair.

All factors that place these two pieces in that niche of sought-after and always appreciated objects.

Dimensions (cm): W 129, D 60, H 93.
