Description

A shelf that can be used as a bookcase or serving trolley in mahogany with four shelves opening to a drawer at the bottom. Its four ringed uprights are finished with casters and its tilting upper shelf can be used as a desk. (The ruler would then be missing.) Dating from the 19th century, around 1860, it should be noted that its very reasonable price takes into account the small alterations on the shelves, moreover hidden by the objects or books placed on them. We can provide packaging and transport in mainland France for EUR80
